

Library/Learning Commons Volunteers Needed

Our Learning Commons is also known as our library. This year I am super thrilled to be the Teacher Librarian and look forward to seeing all the students using our learning space during instructional times and at nutrition breaks.

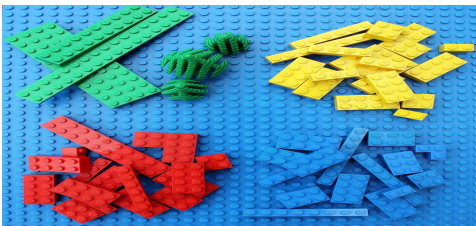

I will be in the Learning Commons space 50% of my day and therefore I am looking for volunteers to help shelf books when they have time in their day. I was hoping to have a flexible schedule and parents/community members with police checks can sign up to help based on their availability.

Volunteering in the Learning Commons will start on Wednesday Sept. 13th.

Please send me an email at belfordl@hdsb.ca with your availability during the week and the amount of time you are able to commit and I can send you some more details.

Thanks in advance for your help and support.

Lego Needed Please!!

GOOD NEWS...This year in the Learning Commons we are lucky enough to have a Lego Wall however, at this point we have no Lego. If you have any spare pieces at home that you could donate to our school we would very much appreciate the help and support.

Once again, thank you so much!
